Entries, Awards Fan Interest in Essanay Fete June 7

Niles was on the map in a big way this week, with the entire Bay Area's interest focussed on the Essanay Days fete here June 7. Articles and photographs in city papers, plus radio and TV notices assured the local Chamber of Commerce of a whopping crowd for its fun-festival.

RADIO SINGER IS CENTENNIAL STAR

Radio Star Stanley Nunan, vocalist, will be featured at the dedication of the Washington Township Historical Society's court-house marker at Alvarado on June 6.

Nunan will sing several selections at the ceremony, which takes place at 1:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Roland Bendel, chairman.

Featured speaker will be Supervisor Chester E. Stanley. The supervisors will convene at the site, Smith and Levee Streets, to commemorate the first county Court of Sessions there in 1853.

A fashion parade will follow, at 3 p.m., in Washington High School auditorium. Dresses of historic interest illustrating the Township's 100 years will be displayed, and historic objects will be exhibited.

The Alvarado Chamber of Commerce is staging a cleanup campaign to ready their town. The Alvarado ceremonies will launch official observance of Alameda County's first 100 years.

They have been formally designated the first event on the Centennial program, which will end with a pageant at the County Fair late in June.

Lone Man 'Blocks'
Decoto Return,
Marks Claims

One man is holding up Decoto's return to the Township Chamber of Commerce, Chamber President Maurice B. Marks charged Monday night to his assembled delegates.

Marks did not name the balky individual, but he left no doubt he meant Decoto Chamber President Manuel Hidalgo, when he said, of his recent meeting with the Decoto group:

"I had everyone's mind changed except the president's. The people of Decoto certainly are not all in accord with his thinking, and I believe they'll return."

At least one Decoto Chamber member echoed Marks' statement. This was Kenneth Garcia, who showed up at the meeting as a non-voting representative. Said Garcia:

"I don't want this Chamber to judge Decoto by one or two people. They are still plenty of us who'll sit down and discuss things."

Marks stressed the chamber "is merely a fact-finding body," and maintains a hands-off attitude toward "incorporation or any other local town issue," and that he deplored "misinterpretation" of its sponsorship of the Coro incorporation survey.

Decoto's chamber withdrew last month with comment by Hidalgo and others that the Township group was (1) pushing Township incorporation, and (2) failing to give adequate attention to Decoto's problems, notably to its request to attract a bank to the town.

Reports indicate that a pro-Township faction will bring the issue to a head again next Tuesday when Decoto's members meet.

Marks said he recognized that chamber policy toward retail businesses, like banks, needs sharper definition. Monday he called for a report from a policy committee headed by Paul Gygas of Newark.

Gygas's preliminary recommendations included (1) keeping the Township body aloof from individual town problems, while offering them assistance if requested, and (2) restricting the Township Chamber to furnishing information to outsiders, and not going afieid to advertise industrial sites — "since we haven't the money."

Several members demanded to know where the line would be drawn in recommending retail locations—"who would decide we need another drug store?" And A. E. Alameda declared:

"That's not our function."

At the urging of Jack Prouty and Gordon Cotton, the issue was tabled for further study and recommendations by Gygas's group.

CARRIES ESSANAY
SPIRIT TOO FAR

Manager Ted Tully of the Niles Theater this week threw himself into the Essanay spirit so hard he broke his arm.

Tully, whose showing of rare old films next week will be a major part of the film festival, went to Sunol Tuesday to find a horse to ride in the parade.

The frisky bronc tossed him, fractured Tully's left wrist.

Now he's wishing he'd used a double, like Broncho Billy Anderson used to!

U. C. SCHOLARSHIP TO LOCAL STUDENT

A Washington High School student, yet unnamed, will receive a valuable University of California scholarship at the Southern Alameda County Alumni Association dinner in San Lorenzo Friday night.

Name of the student will be announced at the affair, according to Vernon Ellsworth of Niles, in charge of local ticket sales.

The dinner starts at 6:30 p.m. in Edensvale School.

T. D. WITHERLY, 88,
DIES IN MISSION

Thomas Dexter Witherly, 88, retired rancher, passed away May 25 at his residence in Mission San Jose. He was the husband of Vera Witherly; father of Bernice Witherly, Mission San Jose; June Granville of Orinda, Clair Witherly of Menlo Park, Katherine De Feo of Piedmont, and the late Floyd and Ned Witherly.

He was a native of Stockton, and a resident in Mission San Jose since boyhood.

In 1922 he purchased the 1200-acre Linda Vista Ranch, location of Linda Vista Park, and operated it until his retirement five years ago.

Private services were held yesterday from Berge Mortuary, Irvington, with interment in IOOF Cemetery.

ROTARY SPEAKER

Operations of the U. S. oil tanker fleet were outlined last Thursday to the Niles Rotary Club by Lawrence Ford, assistant marine manager for the Standard Oil Company of California. John Taber was program chairman.

Township Chamber of Commerce delegates this week decided to take a longer look before accepting Supervisor Chester Stanley's offer to pay half the salary of a fulltime Chamber secretary.

The proposal generated a hot discussion at Monday night's Chamber session. So warm did the argument grow that delegates agreed to cool it by tabling the issue until their next meeting, June 22.

The controversy arose after Eugene Manning, secretary for the past three years on a part-time basis, resigned effective May 31.

Chamber President Maurice B. Marks sprang Stanley's offer Monday night. Apparently it caught some delegates by surprise.

First opposition came from A. E. Alameda of Irvington. He declared:

"It's not good business to go in with the supervisors. I don't want (Supervisor Harry) Bartell telling us how to run our office."

And Charles Venturi of Warm Springs added:

"People might think there's a political tie-in."

Marks attempted in vain to push the proposal through. He explained (1) the county that same day had budgeted $150 per month to pay the salary of a girl to handle Stanley's work when he is not here, (2) that she also could answer phone calls and provide information to firms and individuals inquiring about the Township, (3) that she would use Stanley's office, relieving the chamber of rent, and (4) that she could answer inquiries about the Community Chest's $1000 emergency welfare fund.

In years past the county has paid $150 per month toward Manning's salary. Another $660 per year has been contributed by eight local chambers of commerce. But Manning has never had a business office, or a stenographer.

Marks took Alameda to task for an alleged "switch" in his sentiments, and reminded the Newark delegation that its members last week instructed them to cast a "yes" vote for the plan.

This brought a hot retort from Alameda to Marks that "you never told me you and Stanley got together." Newark's Gordon Cotton, who had seconded a motion by Jack Prouty to accept the project, explained:

"This is too controversial and I don't feel justified in voting until we take it back to our members."

Prouty's motion was put to a vote and failed, eight to three.

C. W. Chrysler of Niles voiced the non-voters' opinion with the statement that individual chambers ought to express an opinion before adopting the plan.

HOME RULE GETS
CITY BILL SIGNED

An end to many "free" county services now enjoyed by Washington Township and other unincorporated areas in California is forecast following Governor Warren's approval of the County Service Area Law last Saturday.

Just before flying to the Coronation, the governor signed into law the measure, which had been backed by metropolitan representatives as a means of ridding cities of tax burdens for rural services.

The law provides that supervisors may set up districts in the unincorporated areas, to levy direct charges on residents for lights, roads, police protection and other county services which cities have shared through county taxes in the past.

Observers point out that in the case of Alameda County, four of the five supervisors represent incorporated cities, and could easily outvote the single rural supervisor, Chester Stanley, if they desire to impose such districts.

It is this possibility which impelled several Township residents, notably LeRoy Broun of Centerville, to urge a survey of cityhood possibilities in the Township.

This survey, conducted by the Coro Foundation, was completed several weeks ago. Thus far only Newark, last week, has taken an independent step to investigate cityhood for itself.

The Coro Survey showed it would be possible — though expensive — for the Township

WEEK'S WEATHER

The week's light rains in Washington Township weren't enough to damage the cherry crop, according to at least one local orchardist.

Joseph C. Shinn Jr. of Niles said a small amount of rot may result, but that the ripening fruit dried before the sun could split it.

Strawberry growers however took another drubbing from the showers. More extensive rotting is expected.

Delay Newark Zone Changes, Grant 'Em in Irvington

FINALLY — On Sunday afternoon, June 7, ceremonies at Centerville's Presbyterian Church will mark the church's 100th birthday. It is the oldest edifice of its denomination in the Bay area.

Rezoning of Newark, scheduled last Wednesday by the County Planning Commission, was postponed until June 10.

Fifty residents of Newark appeared in Oakland, and some of them raised enough conflicting arguments to cause the postponement.

Meantime, however, three parcels south of Irvington were rezoned to suit three sets of petitioners.

Wednesday's hearing on the Newark rezoning was to have been the final one before the commission rendered its recommendations to the Supervisors. However:

1. Arthur Beal of San Leandro appeared to make another plea for commercial zoning of his proposed $3,000,000 shopping center site at Thornton and Birch. Chamber of Commerce representatives sat mum through the presentation. Beal said "there's room enough" both for his project and the Chamber-sponsored commercial district uptown. He also reported 533 signatures on his petition for rezoning.

2. Representatives of American Forest Products Co. objected to residential rezoning of industrial land between Baine and Central (Continued on Page 5)

Standard of the HighwaySewer Districts Provide Ready-Made Basis for Incorporation of Towns(Third in a series on the Coro Survey of the possibilities of Township incorporation.)

By STUART NIXON

Washington Township has some ready-made arguments for incorporating almost every town in it.These are the sanitary districts. Niles, Centerville and Newark use a common sewer system—the Union Sanitary District. Irvington and Mission San Jose share another one. Decoto and Alvarado have their separate systems.The homely sewer is a more powerful municipal binding agent than any other service, whether fire department, police or schools.Underground pipes are absolutely necessary to a modern city.
And they are so expensive to install, that the larger area they serve, the more efficient and thrifty the system becomes.Government experts feel that once a sanitary system is built, any town is more than halfway toward incorporation, since its biggest expense is out of the way.Says the Coro Report of Washington Township's districts:"Alvarado's is quite small, encompassing about one square mile.
It is not considered capable of handling a rapidly-increasing population." It cost only $2527 to operate last year.

"(Of the Decoto District) one sanitary engineer feels it is only a matter of time until the advisability of annexation to the Union District is realized." The Decoto District is rapidly approaching its maximum capacity, and actually feels severe strain when the local cannery is in full operation. Its budget last year was $8749."Irvington's treatment plant is considered adequate for the area served." (Though a few more subdivisions like the 1000-home tract recently announced by Conway & Culligan would overtax it.) It spent $12,768 last year."Union Sanitary District's domestic capacity of service to a 10,000 population is utilized to the extent of 50 per cent." Contracts are being let to boost its outfall and treatment capacity to accommodate more homes and industry. To this effect, a $250,000 bond issue was floated last fall.The Union District was formed in 1918, annexed the Niles District in 1949, and added several Niles subdivisions the next two years.

Its expenses for operations and outlay last year totaled $87,772.If Niles, Newark and Centerville were to join hands as one city, the Union Sanitary District could be absorbed by the new city. If Newark, for example, incorporated alone, it would still remain in the district, subject to rulings of the district's directors, and to the district tax.One angle: the law provides that a sanitary district may provide rubbish and garbage collection.
None of the Township districts provide this. A city either would do so, or would have to contract with a private firm, taking a fee from the company.

"1. According to law, the Newark Park, Recreation and Parkway District will not have tax funds to operate a recreation program until after September 9, 1953.

"2. Current operations at the school playground have been carried on through a donation of funds from the Newark Youth Center Association.

"3. Funds now available will carry the present program until June 14.

ASK DISTRICTS TO JOIN FOR DUMP

A resolution asking all four Township sanitary districts to cooperate in establishing a local refuse dump was authorized Monday by the Township Chamber of Commerce.

Gordon Cotton reported that, under State laws, any of the districts could establish and operate the dump with assistance of the others.

"Now you have to dig a hole and bury your refuse," Cotton complained. "There's no way to clean up our towns—if we wanted to."

The resolution was drafted on motion of Alan Walton.

Unpleasant Future?

IF YOU KNEW for certain that trouble was coming your way, you'd safeguard yourself against it. Unfortunately, nobody knows what will happen next. So, we suggest a well-balanced insurance program — a program that will not cost too much, yet will give you the help you need if trouble strikes.

Chamber Secretary

When Marks persisted that a decision should be made at once in order to replace Manning, the retiring secretary volunteered to stay on until August 31. Then Manning tossed in the contention that a fulltime office secretary "isn't this chamber's most important function." He argued in favor of an industrial-contact salesman instead.

Vernon Ellsworth of Niles suggested that the office girl might be paid $200 a month for a short work-day, and that the balance could be used to defray expenses of a part-time field man. Venturi and others demanded to know who would get priority on the office secretary's time. Amid stiffening opposition to an early decision, Marks then directed delegates to present the issue to their chambers and return with recommendations on June 22.

At the Niles Chamber luncheon the following day, members also tabled the secretary proposal one week to obtain further details of pay, responsibility and duties—presumably from Stanley.

VERDI 9 BOWS TO BEARCAT BATTERS

By TONY ROGERS

In a wild, free-swinging contest here last Sunday, Centerville's Bearcat nine took the measure of San Francisco's Verdi Club, 16-10. The game was marked by 23 walks, 13 of which were issued to the Bearcats by three Verdi hurlers.

Local Pitchers Harold Alameda and John Garcia had their troubles too. But their teammates came through when it counted to score the most runs.

In the third inning, trailing by three markers, the Centervilles smashed over eight of their own on as many safeties, plus two walks. Dick Silva blasted a bases-loaded triple for the big punch, and Garcia himself collected a pair of bingles. That put the Dutramen in front, and they stayed there, despite occasional uprisings.

Next Sunday the opponent will be the San Francisco Pirates, a formidable aggregation which tamed the 'Cats, 7-4, last year. Score by innings: R H E

Irvington Confab

Plans for drainage around Irvington were outlined Tuesday night before the local chamber of commerce by County Flood Control Engineer Herbert C. Crowle.

Crowle told members if a $500,000 October bond election is successful, 50-foot rights-of-way across the Stevenson and Grimmer ranches from Stivers Lagoon will provide protection for the town by 1954.

President Wallace Pond urged Irvington property owners to express their zoning preferences to Karl Christensen, chairman of his zoning committee.

20-30 Club; Betty McNulty, 21, International Kitchen; and Betty Powell, 16, Peerless, Grill.

Other candidates are reported in the field. Voting is by ticket, obtainable from candidates, or from Al Lopez, Niles Flower Shop, in charge of the contest. Brown-Rego Marriage In San Francisco Marriage vows were exchanged May 19 between Lorraine Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of Centerville, and George Rego, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Rego of Niles. The ceremony was performed at St. Vincent de Paul Church, San Francisco, with Father Thomas O'Kane, former pastor of Holy Ghost Church, Centerville, officiating.

The bride wore a beige suit with brown and white accessories and an orchid corsage. Maid-of-honor was Nancy Lee Lloyd, now Mrs. Ernest Rego. Ernest Rego was best man for his brother.

Lorraine graduated from Washington Union High School in 1949 and after graduating from St. Joseph's College of Nursing, San Francisco, worked at the County hospital there.

George graduated from Washington High School in 1950 and has been a musician in the Navy for the past 27 months, stationed now at Ream Auxiliary Landing Field in Ysidro.

The couple honeymooned at Clearlake and after George's three week leave will be at home in San Diego.

Nancy Lloyd Married Sunday to Ernest Rego

White flowers decorated the altar of Corpus Christi Church Sunday for the marriage of Nancy Lee Lloyd and Ernest F. Rego, both of Niles. Father Richard O'Connell performed the ceremony.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Lloyd, wore a ballerina-length bridal gown of imported swiss, with an elbow length nylon net veil trimmed in lace. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of white roses.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Lorraine Rego, matron-of-honor, and Miss Lyla Lloyd, sister of the bride, and Miss Marlene Dias, bridesmaids. All three wore identical dresses of yellow-dotted swiss nylon with matching picture hats, and carried colonial bouquets of red roses.

Mrs. Lloyd chose a champagne silk dress with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Manuel Rego, wore a blue nylon jersey print dress with brown accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Flower girl was Carolyn Barragan of Riverbank.

George Rego was best man for his brother, returning the favor Ernest rendered just five days previously when George was married to Lorraine Brown of Centerville. Ushers were Manny Rego, another brother of the groom, and William Bjorge of Oakdale, cousin of the bride.

A garden reception at the home of the bride's parents on Stenhammer Drive, Niles, followed the ceremony, with approximately 150 guests attending.

Ernest and Nancy are both graduates of Washington High School with the 1952 class. She formerly was employed at the Bank of America in Centerville. He is in the Coast Guard, stationed in Alameda. After a honeymoon trip to Carmel, the couple will be at home in an apartment in Hayward.

Centerville Girl Tells Betrothal at Dinner

Recently announced at a family dinner party was the betrothal of Miss Jean Rose Furtado to Mr. Joseph Thomas Gonzales of Niles. Jean is the daughter of Mrs. Rose B. Furtado of 135 East Washington Avenue, and is a senior at Washington High School.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gonzales of 969 First St., Niles, is a graduate of W.U.H.S. and employed with Trans-World Airlines. He is also attending the Lanney Trade School in Oakland. No wedding date has been set.

Members of last year's board and the new executive board will be hostesses for the afternoon, tea being served after the meeting.

Those who have joined since last May and the past presidents will be honored guests.

A musical program will be presented by Miss Marlene Lofton.

Attendants for the bride will be Miss Diane Ornellas, maid of honor, and the Misses Sharon Lee Ruggles, Elvamae Rose, Erleen Zimmerman, and Mrs. Vera Espinola as bridesmaids.

George Pemintel will serve as best man; Len Goularte, Frank Borghi, Oliver Cordeniz and John Espinola will be ushers.

Toni is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Pemintel of Oak Street, Centerville, and a graduate of Notre Dame High School, San Jose.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Cordeniz of Irvington and is in the dairy business.

The bride-elect was the honoree at three showers, one given by her maid of honor, one by Mrs. E. M. Grimmer Jr., and another by the officers of St. Jude Institute, YLI.

SUZY SEZ...

Add any of the following to your pancake batter for a variety of delicious flavors: chopped apple, thinly cut nuts, bits of cheese, puffed cereal, raisins, or coconut shreds.

Those power poles on the hills overlooking Mission San Jose look like trees, and seem to grow more numerous each year.

I am not a native California, but like so many of the rest of you, a resident by choice. I was surprised to notice that I defended my adopted state more strongly than my former home, when some remarks were made by a recent arrival. Within six months, even the most avid non-Californian finds the state and particularly Washington Township, are pretty wonderful. It might take longer if the new arrival is from Texas.

Things are looking up, here in Orchard Park. At least we usually are, in order to keep an eye on that huge water tower being built across the tracks at the Visking factory. Can you imagine the view the workers get of our flat-tops? Like a giant checkerboard.

Those add, but somehow attractive, cactus plants on display in Decoto almost make me forget the stickier spines. Maybe I'll try planting a few.

Besides a grocery store, and at least one bar, have you noticed that every town in our Township seems to have a shoe repair shop? We must be hard on shoe leather.

I wish I could have seen the grins that followed the route of that wrecked patrol car being towed through Centerville last Thursday.

We shouldn't resent growing old; so many people are denied that privilege. However, the time has come when I want to forget my birthdays. If the saying that you are as young as you feel is true, I am sixty-five when the alarm sings in the mornings, but twenty when the house work is finished. In fact I feel pretty youthful until one of the youngsters ask me about how things were when I was young, "back in the olden days!"

If venetian blinds were banned entirely, it would be curtains for all of us!

So long . . .

According to Board Chairman L. S. Whitaker, the architectural firm of Sorensen & Ellsworth now will seek an okay of the blueprints from the State Department of Health. Whitaker estimated that, with speedy State approval, contracts can be let in October.

Every doctor in the Township was consulted about the plans, Whitaker said, and their suggestions were incorporated.

Whitaker also reported the board is considering leasing its x-ray department to some radiologist, who by installing his own equipment, could save the district $50,000. Several radiologists have been interviewed, he said, and others will appear at the next board meeting in June.

RELIEF FOR NILES SCHOOL

On June 16, voters in Niles will be asked to approve a $150,000 bond issue, plus $610,000 in state aid to build a new 13-room school in Ellsworth Orchard. This editorial is aimed at these voters, but also at taxpayers everywhere.

When classes opened in 1946, Niles Elementary School housed an average of 395 students every day. By 1949, this jumped to 503. This year it's 660. The State Department of Education estimates 825 children will be enrolled by next spring. And that doesn't take into account the 400 new homes already projected for Niles, or more that surely will be built by 1955.

The present school, built in 1939 and enlarged 10 years later, has been forced into double sessions from kindergarten through the fourth grade. Next year, according to the principal, the fifth and sixth grades will be on the abbreviated, half-day session too. In this hurried, hectic atmosphere, teachers can't teach and children can't learn.

All right, the situation is bad. What will the new school do, and what will it cost the taxpayer?

First, the new school will provide education closer to home for youngsters in Canyon Heights, Ellsworth Orchard, and the tracts east of the highway. It will relieve the pressure on the present school sometime in the fall of '54, so that double sessions can be ended. The present Niles School then will be used only for pupils west of the highway.

The cost? On the advice of the district attorney's office, the district is asking permission to float $150,000 in bonds. But the district's assessed valuation of about $3,800,000 will support only $69,000 more bonds, according to law. So that's all that will be sold. The rest will be kept in reserve to take care of emergencies as the assessments rise. The bonds which are sold will cost taxpayers slightly more than 10 cents per $100 valuation. Likewise, although the district is seeking $610,000 in State aid, it expects far less—maybe $350,000. Maximum the State requires a district to pay back is 30 cents per $100 a year. Altogether, the cost is a total of 40 cents per $100 valuation. Or about $8 a year on the average home.

Niles taxpayers now are paying just under $2.02 per $100 for operation of their school, plus retirement and interest on bonds. Forty cents on top of that doesn't seem too much if children are to be properly housed and educated.

Of course, there comes to mind the fact that a third school, somewhere in Adobe Acres, probably will be needed before long. That doesn't make the present need any less urgent. We can only hope that new homes, stores and industries will be here by then, to help shoulder the taxes for that.

Arguments that we can't afford new schools ought to be examined in the light of how we hope to pay for them on a long-term basis, not on whether it hurts to pay for them today. The population boom has brought California a swarm of folks whose education, income and opportunities fall below the high standard that fortunate Californians expect.

Many of the newcomers are GIs, virtually exempt from taxes on their homes. Many more are renters who own no property. They are often accused of getting a free tax ride.

Look at it this way, however: all of them pay income taxes, sales taxes to the federal and State governments, and in this way support the schools, which receive heavy State and federal subsidies. Eventually they will own land, pay their direct share of the local tax burden too.

Meantime, unless their children receive proper education—and that means in adequate school buildings, because you can't teach on a fallen tree anymore—many of these children will grow up to be a burden on all of us. With adequate schooling, they have an infinitely better chance to become the successful men and women—and taxpayers—of 1980.

How much better to buy them schools today than prisons or asylums or relief homes tomorrow!

DEFENSE TEMPEST AGAIN

If all armchair military experts were laid end to end, what a blessing it would be. None the less, we feel impelled to rise from our armchair to wish the same fate to the brass hats and their pals in Congress who are reviving the old inter-service row over economy cuts in the Air Force.

President Eisenhower and his defense secretary, Charles E. Wilson, have suggested a five billion slice out of the defense budget. Most of the slice comes off the Air Force's appropriations and reportedly would cut its future strength from around 143 wings to about 120. Some Congressmen predict disaster because of this, claiming that Russia will overwhelm us from the skies if we have fewer wings than the Air Force recommends.

We admit it would be nice to have all that air strength—and more too. But when Eisenhower, our outstanding military leader, and Wilson, topflight industrialist, agree it's more important to start economizing, we incline toward their judgment.

We remember the armies of "indispensable" pencil-pushers in the Pentagon and elsewhere, the $500,000,000 floating targets that the Navy insists it needs for aircraft carriers, the bitter jealousy when an admiral gets a plane a general thinks he should have had.

Then we remember the second string to the Communist bow: if they can't whip us in battle, they'll let us arm ourselves into bankruptcy. Eisenhower and Wilson know that, and are treading the tight-wire between preparedness and bankruptcy.

No better talent is available for this perilous balancing act. We hate to see their critics jiggling the wire.

MYSTERY MAN HAD LUMBER HERITAGE

(Last week's subject was comparatively easy for Townshippers to guess. One school man told us: "It just sounded like Jack MacGregor." We'll make this one a little tougher. See if you can find the clue without having to hunt up the answer elsewhere in the paper.)

His father was a traveling lumber mill superintendent. The family barely paused long enough in Elizabethton, Tenn., to allow our mystery man to be born.

After moving all over the South, to Arizona and elsewhere, the family and its six children settled in Eureka. There our man worked vacations and after school ("with six kids, you've got to keep hustling") for the huge Hammond Lumber Company.

After high school, he went for three years to Humboldt State College, studying engineering. But well-paid employment beckoned, and in 1926 he went to work for the lumber firm, full-time.

There he learned the rudiments of the profession he later was to adopt.

Our man married a Eureka girl he met while in college, and a daughter was born in 1941. That summer he left the company, ended up in a lumber office in San Francisco. He had been in Hammond's employ for 15 years, though he was only 29.

In 1942 he said farewell to splinters, came to the Township to work for Westvaco Chemical. The company was building its East Plant at Newark to make a catalyst used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber.

Our subject became office manager at the annex. Finally as war work began to taper off, he started to study a new profession in earnest. By 1945, he had learned enough to go into business here for himself.

He has been president of the Lions Club, is prominent in Chamber of Commerce and church activities. His hobby is fishing—"for salmon or steelhead, none of those four-inch brook trout."

He never misses a Washington Hi home game, and is a familiar figure on the sidelines.

Guess Who!
